++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Dry for most, but often cloudy.

Today:

Another rather cloudy day for most with some light showers in central and eastern parts at first, dying out through the morning. Some sunny intervals developing, best in the west and the south. Breezy in the south and southeast.

Tonight:

Mostly cloudy with some light showers in parts of the east overnight, whilst clear spells are possible in the west with a few mist or fog patches developing.

Wednesday:

Again, rather cloudy with some light showers in central and eastern parts at first, these dying out with cloud breaking to give sunny intervals, best in the west and northwest.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Rather cloudy and cool for many, although some sunny spells are likely further west where it will feel warmer. A few showers may develop in the southwest later on Saturday.
